COURT OPINION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

v.

Clarissa Ann Luyster, Defendant

Docket No. 208 - 2007 - CR

Attorney for Commonwealth: Patrick Robinson, Esq.

Attorney for Defendant: Oressa P. Campbell, Esq.

Decided By: Raymond L. Hamill, P.J.

Summary of the Case

Before the Court was Defendant Clarissa Ann Luyster's Amended Petition for Post-Conviction Collateral Relief which raised various claims of ineffective assistance of trial counsel. Defendant originally pled guilty to one count of Criminal Conspiracy graded as a felony in the first degree when she was 17 years old and received a sentence in the standard range of 15 to 30 years. Following the filing of the Amended Petition, the Court conducted an evidentiary hearing on November 30, 2011, at which time Defendant had the opportunity to present witnesses and testimony in support of her Amended Petition.

Beginning with the presumption that counsel is effective based on precedent, the Court opined that Defendant bears the burden of establishing counsel is ineffective. Commonwealth v. Smalls, 980 A.2d 594 (Pa. 2009). With that initial presumption, the Court then reviewed each of Defendant's claims of ineffective assistance of counsel in order.

Defendant first argued that trial counsel failed to file a direct appeal to Superior Court following a direct request to do so, which requires not only a request but also that counsel disregarded that request. Commonwealth v. Bath, 907 A.2d 619 (Pa.Super. 2006). In this case, two witnesses testified at the evidentiary hearing that no such request for a direct appeal was made, and failing to find any other evidence to establish such a direct request was made, the Court denied Defendant's first claim.

Defendant's second claim centered on whether trial counsel had a duty to consult with Defendant regarding the advantages and disadvantages of taking a direct appeal. The Court opined that counsel has a constitutionally-imposed duty to consult with a defendant when there is reason to think either 1) that a rational defendant would want to appeal because there are non-frivolous grounds for appeal or 2) that this particular defendant reasonably demonstrated to counsel that he was interested in appealing. Commonwealth v. Gadsden, 832 A.2d 1082 (Pa.Super. 2003). In the instant case, Defendant would have appealed the discretionary aspects of her sentence which in the Court's estimation would have been meritless given that her sentence was in the standard range. The Court then determined that Defendant's second claim should also be denied.

Defendant's final claim was that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to appeal the Court's Order denying Defendant's Petition to Decertify. A decision regarding decertification will not be overturned absent a gross abuse of discretion. Commonwealth v. Sanders, 814 A.2d 1248 (Pa.Super. 2003). The Court stressed that in Pennsylvania persons charged with murder are to be tried as adults. Commonwealth v. Pyle, 342 A.2d 101 (Pa. 1975). A court may transfer a case to the juvenile court when the minor proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the transfer will serve the public interest. Commonwealth v. Austin, 664 A.2d 597 (Pa.Super. 1995). This Court determined that the public interest would be best served to try Defendant as an adult for the murder of her father based on all the evidence presented. Defendant failed to present any evidence of gross abuse of discretion at the PCRA hearing, nor any evidence of any merit to file an appeal of the denial of the petition to decertify. Accordingly, Defendant's final claim was also denied.

As a result, the Court denied Defendant's Amended Petition for Post-Conviction Collateral Relief in its entirety and advised Defendant of her right to appeal the decision to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania within thirty days of the date of the Court's Order.
